Subject: Health & Justice Forum Panel Logistics

Greetings!

We are officially one week out from our 2018 Health & Justice Forum. I wanted to take this time once again to say how excited we are that all of you are able to participate in our Whole Family and Whole Community Approaches to Improving Health and Preventing Justice System Involvement session. I have spoken with each of you individually about the session content, and your own unique perspectives that you will bring to the panel, however I thought it best to connect everyone via email as well. Below are all the participants of this session. I have also attached everyone's bios and photos to this message for your reference.

Facilitator: William Gibbons, Executive Director, Public Safety Institute, Memphis, Tenn.

- Kim Gilhuly, Health Instead of Punishment Director, Human Impact Partners, Oakland, Calif.
- Robert Stephens, Health Officer, Garrett County, Md.
- Margaret Tazewell, Executive Director, Knox County Head Start, Inc., Knox County, Ohio

Additionally, I have attached the run of show for the session, which provides a minute by minute breakdown of the structure. Panelists will have about 10 mins each to make remarks. Please note that power points are not necessary, however we can accommodate any visuals if you wish to include them with your remarks. I have also provided some questions to help guide your remarks. Remarks will be followed by facilitator questions, and then questions from the audience. Pre-drafted questions for each panelist have also been included in the run of show, and can be asked at the facilitator's discretion. I invite you to share any questions that you may have for other panelist either in advance of or during the session if time permits.

I look forward to seeing you all in Tennessee! Please feel free to reach out to me with any questions regarding the panel or the forum in general.

Warm Regards,
